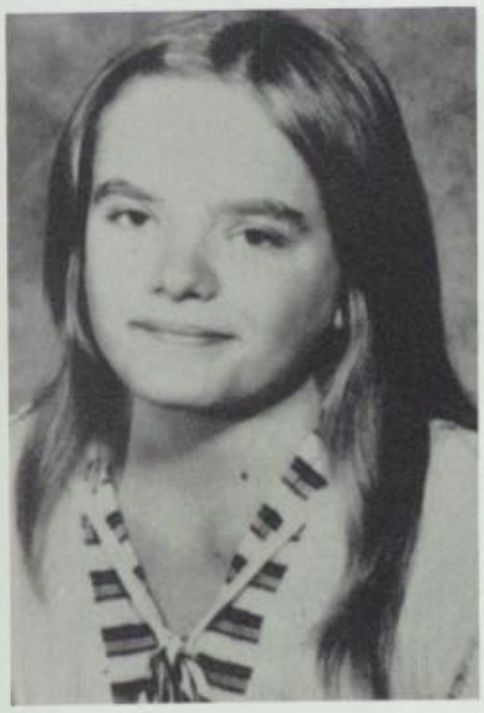
In Memoriam



Angels stood guard as the gates opened wide,
""Come to me LeeAnn, come on inside.''
He held out His hand and she held on tight,
And he led her to Heaven in the still of the night.

""Welcome my child, so young and so fair'',
He kissed her soft cheek and stroked her silk hair.
She raised her head slowly and saw God's smiling face,
She felt His great warmth and was filled with his grace.

""Thank you, Dear Lord, for bringing me here,
But look down on earth, see there's a tear,
On the cheek of my father, and on Mother's too,
Please comfort them Lord, let them know I'm with you.

Jonna Stanton Kimmell

Gary Harrison was an active person. He was very quick tempered, but an easy one to charm. Nobody could replace his talent for basketball. Gary loved basketball, and he worked hard at it so he could say he was the best. If there's one thing he knew alot about, it was basketball. Of course, Gary had his faults, but, doesn't everybody! No one could ever take his place, because Gary Harrison was one of a kind.

SLUGGING IT OUT

The Chiefs Diamond crew of 1977 put on a show that was in the words of one of the key players, ''one not to be ashamed of''. One after another doubleheader always takes something out of a team of few seasoned players. It was a season stretching from May 25 to July 14.

The year will be remembered to as the last for Coach Holdiman, who has had fair success in his years here at the helm of the Chiefs and their hard ball ventures. The fate of an experienced squad will be in the hands of Coach Fred Figge no stronger to young baseball players in Keokuk as he has had much to do with the baseball players in the Y-League.

A glance at the 1977 stats shows Jim Ruffcorn, Tod Pike, and Clint Sheets all hitting above the magic .300 mark, while Todd Miller and Tony Nye with the best earned run average in the pitching department.

As the book goes to press, the 1978 season is well underway on what looks to be an excellent season.

First row: S. Kelley, J. McGrew. Second row: Miller, J. Handyside, C. Sheets.

FALL MEANS SOFTBALL

First row: J. Williams, T. Landers, M. Westermeyer, H. Daggs, K. Gates, L. Elschlager, P. Vermillion, L. Galbreath, M. Daggs. Second row: L. Meyers, C. Baugher, R. Galbreath, T. Meyers, D. Shinn, C. Froeling, K. Gullick, J. Froeling, K. O'Hara, C. Sheets. Miss J. Bock (coach).

L. Myers, freshman standout pitcher goes through windup.

Miss Janet Bock faced a variety of improved conditions in the softball situation at KHS. Defense, hitting, and pitching booked better than in the fall of '76.

The softball team had a break over the previous fall in that they did get more games under their belts due to a better schedule and weather. With a summer program being initiated the caliber of softball at KHS should be considerably improved.

The Chiefette swim team faced too many teams like Burlington and Ottumwa to amass much of a record. Then to add insult to injury, they were assigned to the district at Kennedy in Cedar Rapids with competition such as that put forth by the Dubuque schools, Cedar Falls and Marshalltown. It is no wonder the best they could do was an eighth place finish. Those placing were the 200 yard medley relay, Lisa VanDever (100 yard Butterfly), Shelly Schuler (500 yard Freestyle), and the 400 Free Relay.

In duals they had their best luck against Regina of Iowa City. Other than those listed above as winners were Julie Jutte, Mary Rovane, Laura Nye, and Joni Eidem.

Not many seniors appear in the winning group so high hope is held for the gals of the fin sport at KHS.

The staff wishes to apologize to the swim team for failing to have action shots. The pictures were taken early in the season. If the staff is at fault, it is in not getting prints made before the season ended.

The professional photographer left town and after several attempts to secure pictures, the staff tried to set up a session with some of the girls. But due to a change in plans, the photographer didn't keep the appointment. It was difficult to get the girls together during the spring as they were on different athletic teams.

Again we say we are sorry for not getting a better coverage of the team. We tried as late as June 17th.

Chiefs finish season on upbeat

Another season came and went with some very interesting football put forth by the charges of Coach Vandenberg and staff. In only one game were they really no true picture of the effort and ability of the 1977 Chiefs.

After the tremendous upset over the Notre Dame Raiders, Coach Vandenberg made some comment to the effect, "I knew these guys had character and we just had to win one." The writer would second that statement, Many of the seniors, with their fine attitude, leave some challenges to the under classmen moving up to the varsity.

The staff asked one of the upcoming seniors, Chuck Cooper, his reaction to the highlights of the season. Here is his thoughts along this line. "I think the high point of our season was winning the last game of the season against state playoff bound Q.N.D. Our team was actually better than our record showed. We just seemed to have a problem getting started. We had plenty of talent."

"It was an interesting season, although not many victories, we learned a lot with the new offense installed" so said Scott Kelly when asked for his comments.

So it is with interest that Keokuk looks to the 1978-79 season.

B. Ruffcorn, R. Riddle.

First row: D. Uyemura, J. McGrew. Second row: B. Ruffcorn, R. Lorenz, S. Weirather. These fine players were voted All-Conference.

1. Head Coach Jim Vandenberg watches as one of his injured players is helped from the field. 2. Upper classmen who bore much of the load for the gridiron sport. 3. It looks like one of our quarterbacks has just uncorked a forward pass. 4. Some rock'em sock'em action. 5. More action in one of the Chief's games.

In the hands of the nine gentlemen rode the destinies of KHS football in 1977.

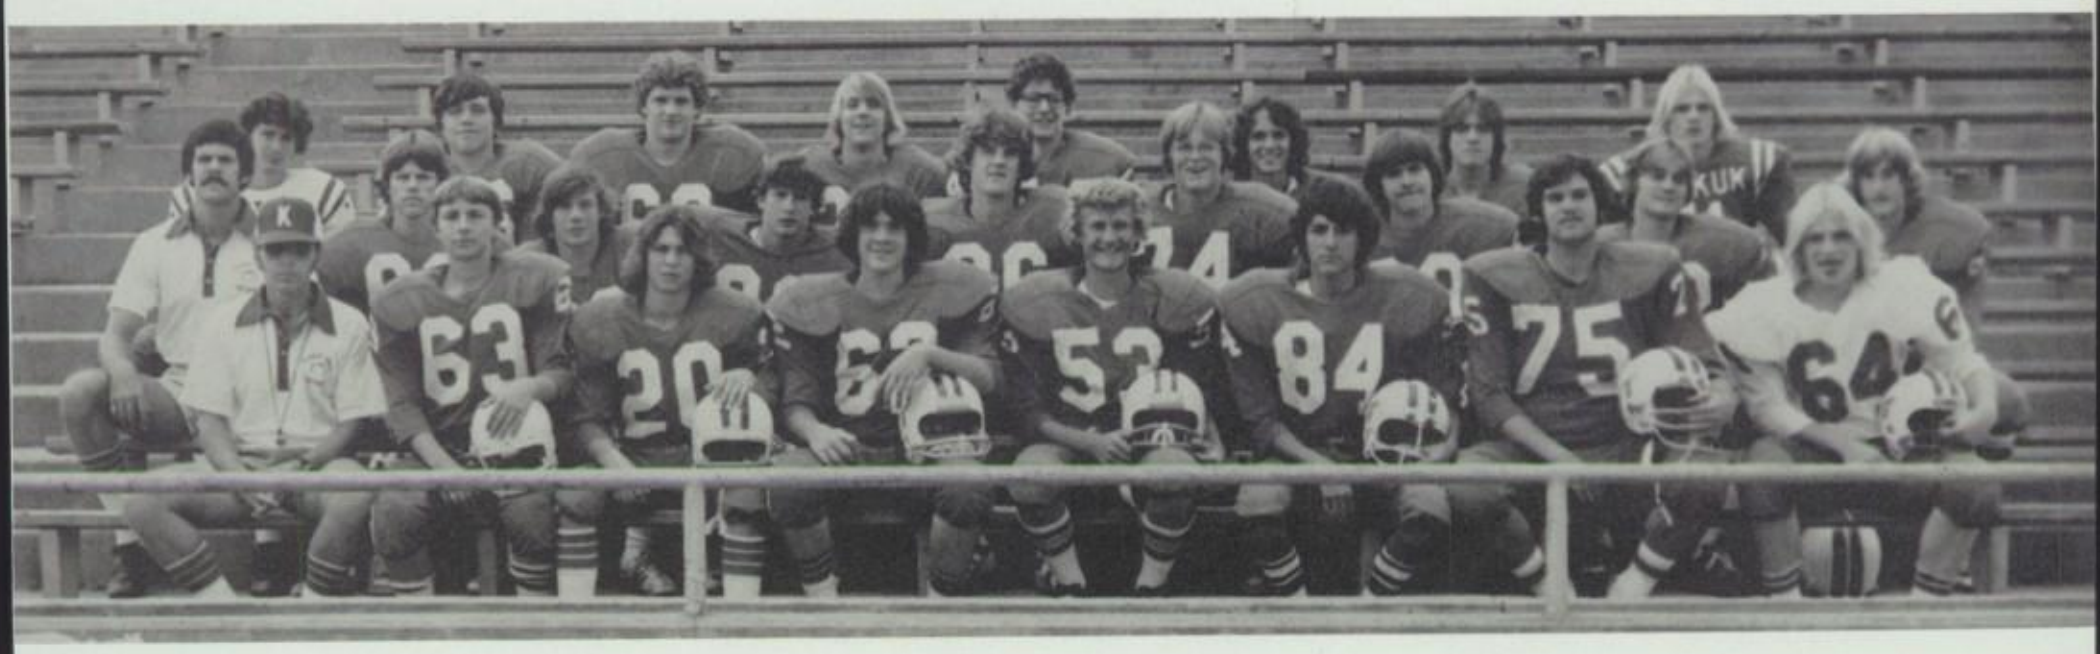
First row: J. Vandenberg. Second row: W. Pohorsky, J. Kersten. Third row: G. Altman. Fourth row: J. Whannell, J. Lockett (trainer). Fourth row: D. Weiser, C. Everingham, F. Figge.

"Coach" is giving the squad on the bench some instructions.

S. Underwood, R. Riddle, T. O"Brien, J. Ruffcorn. These players received All-Conference honorable mention.

In spite of a poor season, the Keokuk sophomores added to their basic knowledge of the game and will be fitting into the gaps left by the graduates.

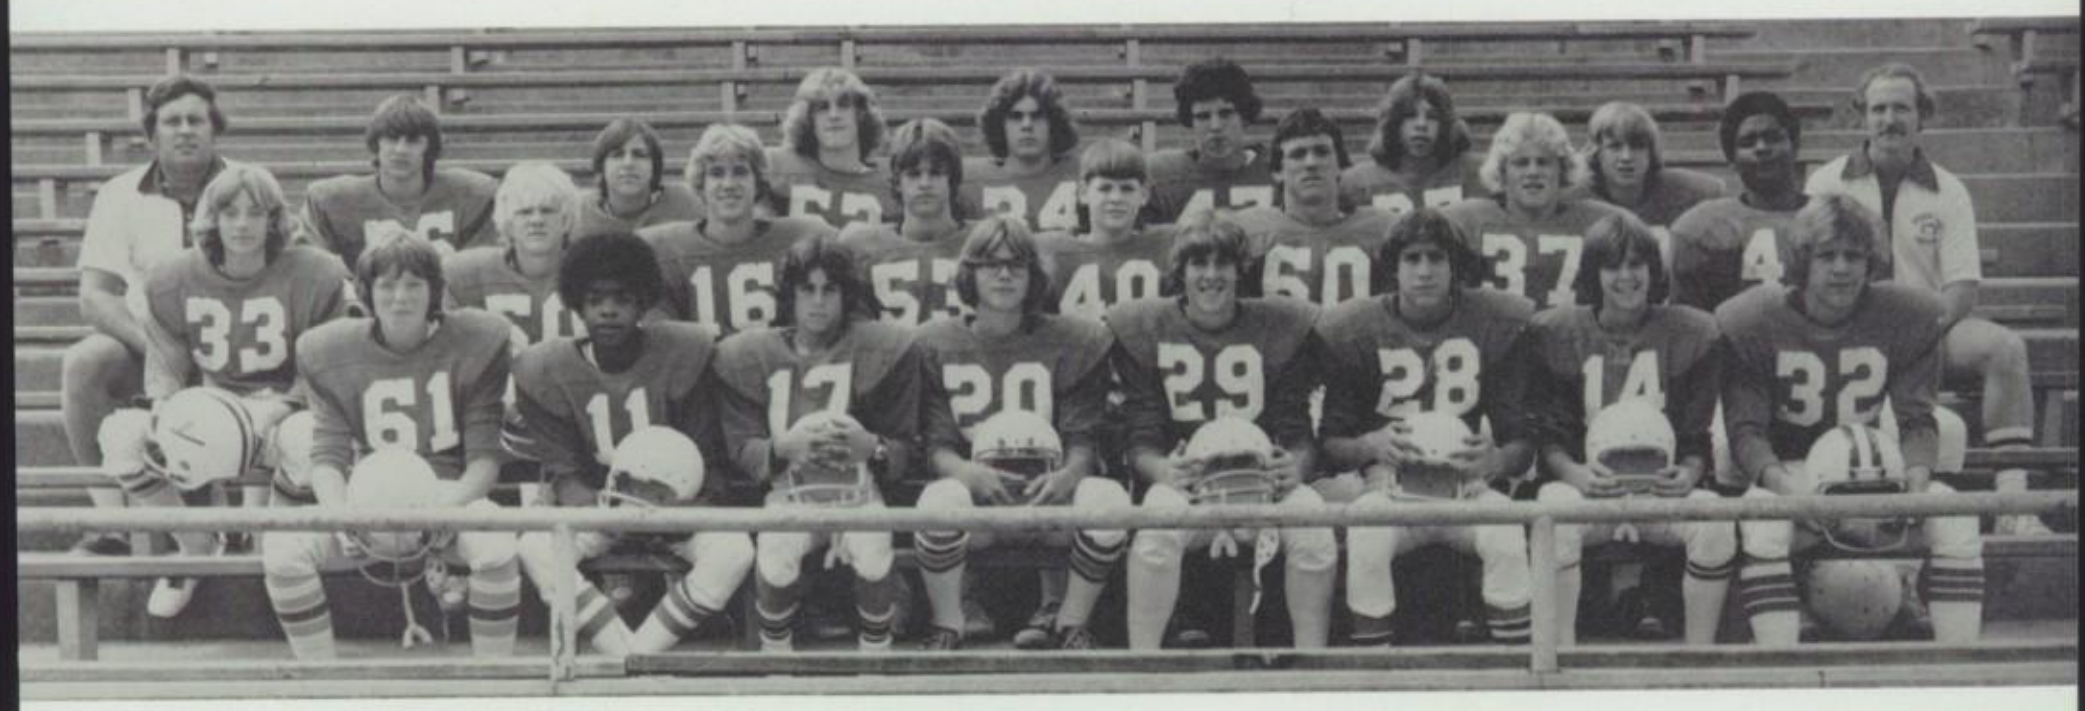
Such names as John Tiemann, Joe StClair, Steve Gaylord, and James Kelly were among those who made the aerial games click for some exciting moments in the 1977 season.



First row: Mr. Whannel (coach), N. Jackson, J. Abell, A. Queen, B. Payne, C. Cantu, J. Petrillo . Riddle, Second row: Mr. Wiser (coach), B. Halstad, N. Vogel, J. StClair, C. Beaird, E. Mann, . Gaylord, S. Rose, J. Maddox. Third row: S. Kelly, A. White, S. Day, T. Rader, J. Calderon, M. elania, T. Pfeiferling, G. Riddle.

Fred Figge's Junior Chiefs, although not amassing great won and loss record, were an interesting team to watch with a good mixing of passing and ground game. Coach Figge on several occasions landed the defensive work of Bill Jefferson, Chris Cooper, Scott Klann, and Tim Poe. The latter two had a hand in much of the scoring. Terry Lemon, Kirk Young, and Rick Marlin were on the receiving end of Klann's passes on many occasions.

Much can be expected from these young grid hopefuls.



1. M. O"Hara, S.Webb, D. Hawkins, T. Kersten, G. Betts, T. StClair, W. Ames, T. Poe. 2. R. Marlin, K. Noel, S. Klann, M. Riley, D. Baum, G. Meyers, K. Lemon, C. Woods, 3. Coach-Figge, D. Anderson, C. Copper, B. Wells, J. Burke, D. Carter, K. Young, S. Value, Coach-Everingham.

Remember the 3 overtimes ?!

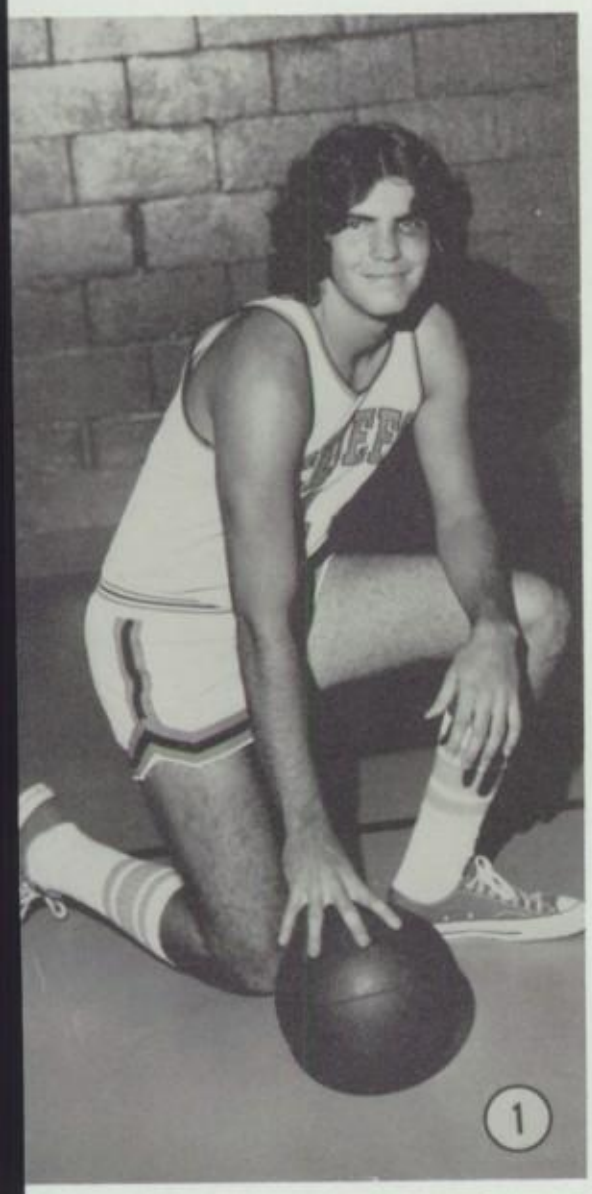
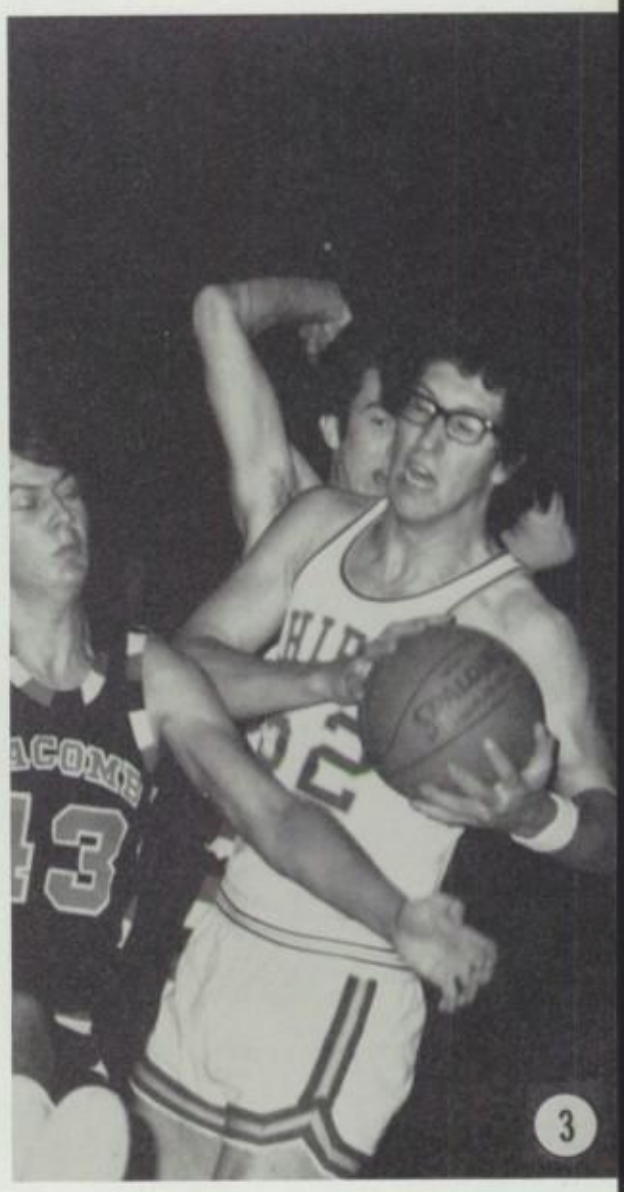
The 1977-1978 basketball season was a very challenging one. Since we did have our own court to play on it did make our job a bit easier. Though it didn't make practices easier, they were hard and long, but it paid off in return.

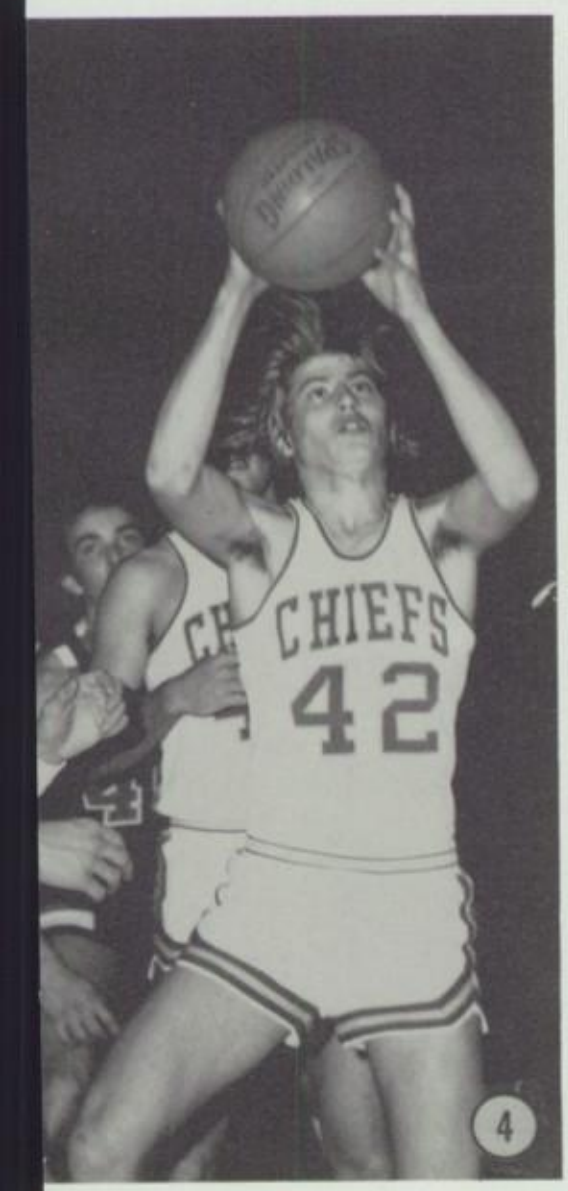
The squad of this year had a lot of ability and a lot of heighth. 'It was an extreme pleasure watching this team play,' lauded Coach Bruce VanDever. 'Though this seasons non-conference team were the toughest we have had in years.'

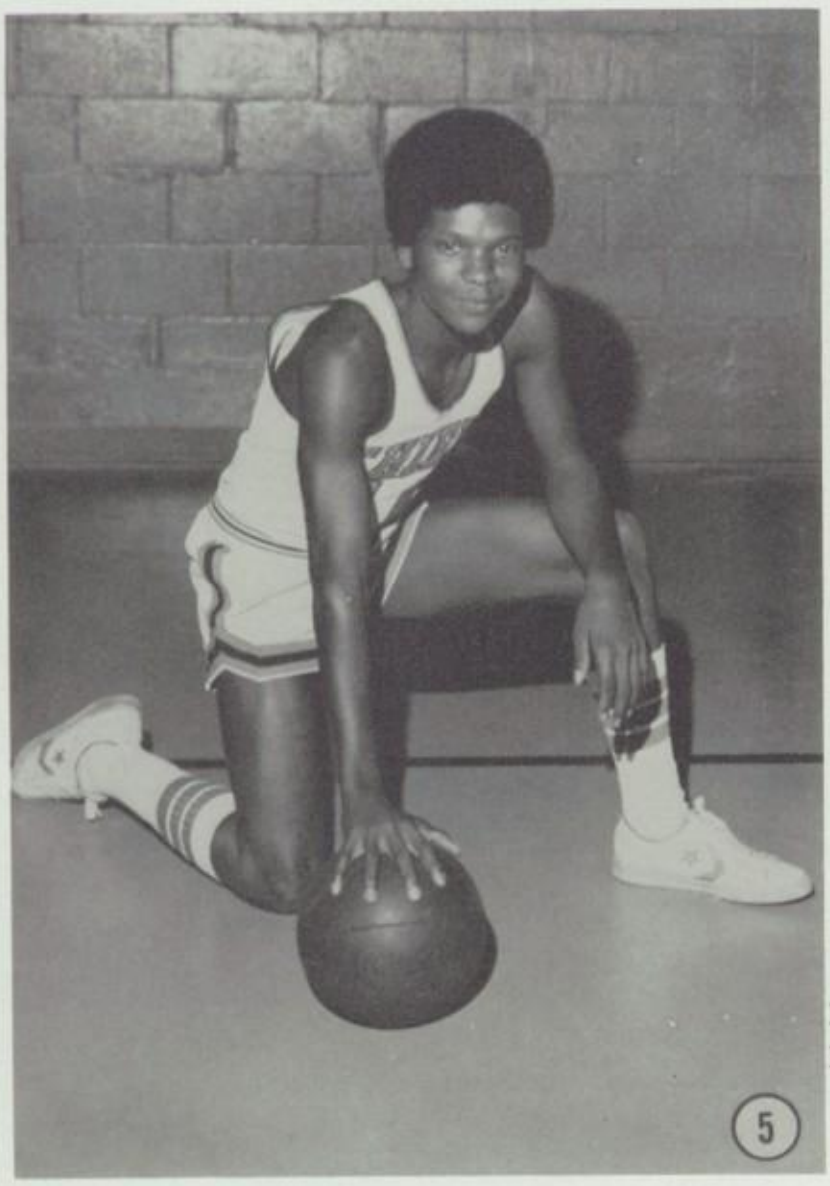
Each basketball season has something to look forward to each year. This upcoming year ought to be one.

In Districts the Chiefs had a great start defeating the Ft. Madison Bloodhounds 63-61. Then the Burlington Greyhounds stopped the Chiefs at Burlington 72-54.









1. J. Handyside, mainstay of the 1978 squad, shows the scars of battle. 2. T. Miller was the veteran backcourt player that Mr. VanDever dependended on all season. 3. Rebounding and under the basket scramble was L. Engler's best asset to the team. 4. T. Webb really came into his own as a member of the squad late in the season. 5. C. Woods, a junior like Engler, made much progress as a guard on this year's team.

The Little Chiefs as shown above and the freshmen squad below offered much in entertainment over the past year. Those who follow basketball over the years see much promise in the type of hustle and skill demonstrated my Mr. Gordon Peters' charges and likewise the freshmen squad should develop into some fine ball players.

The tenth graders distinguished themselves by winning the Lee County Sophomore Tournament. So it looks good for varsity basketball in the next two or three years.

The '77-'78 version of the KHS Chiefette basketball squad cannot be judged solely on its win-loss record. The team suffered the expected pains after losing all six starters to graduation the year before.

The overall season can be described as one very long, frustrating game of 'catch-up' The squad consistently fell behind in the early stages of the games, and though they produced many exciting rallies, their efforts only carried them into the victory column three times.

The highlight of the season for the varsity team came on Friday, January 27, when the Chiefettes gained their only conference win by stopping the Washington Demonettes 53-52. Sparked by Sharon Bante's 31 points, these young ladies took command early and never once surrendered the lead. The frustrations and agonies of the entire season were finally overcome that night, making all their efforts worthwhile.

Gymnastics is still struggling for status among the girls at KHS. If one asked Mrs. Ruth Hanks, coach, about the past year, she would no doubt lament the lack of numbers.

It was a young team representing KHS with only two seniors, Laurie Nelson and Tina Weber, completing their elligibility.

One member of the team expressed confidence in the progress by the girls in 1978-1979. She sees a great deal of potential among the girls that were out this year.

Mrs. Hanks, like coaches of some of the other athletic teams, is faced with a lack of school programs in the vicinity other than the larger districts. Thus it comes right back to the opening statement that a winning team will be difficult to develop until the desire for excellence will bring out a larger hard working squad

Graduation a year ago depleted the squad to the point that it was an inexperienced group that new coach Charles Everingham faced. If that situation wasn't enough, injuries further depleted the team. They lost Monica Westermeyer just before the teams hit the important meets near the seasons end.

Weather held down outside conditioning to make matters worse. But the track girls made the best of bad conditions. This young squad, should have gained the fundamentals on which to build a sound track program.

KEEP SINKING

Bruce VanDever and his golf squad had a very successful year. As the writer recalls, one of the highlights was their victory over Ottumwa, who went on to a high finish in the state tournament.

It was the kind of a team which on any certain day any one of the squad might finish as medalist. Like all other spring sports in 1977-78, the weather was a major factor in the seasons outcome. Probably this was the latest ever for the courses at the Keokuk Country Club and the Elks Fairview to open. Thus it is quite a tribute to this team that their achievement was so great.

Larry Jones, one of the mainstays on the golf squad, was chosen to be on the all conference team. This is the first year that the coaches made such an honor selection. He was probably the most dependable swinger for the Chiefs.

THOSE PUTTS !

The weatherman took his toll of matches for Lou Schmadeke's Chiefette golfers. They too were short on practice sessions in our non-spring session.

The Gammon sisters, Carla and Chris, were the leaders in most matches. They took their share of medalist honors throughout the season. Carla was runnerup in the sectional and therefore played in the district.

Here is another case of a near-all-underclass squad. So it should point to a better year than the 6-6 record of 1978.

Carla Gammon distinguished herself by advancing to the District ss one of the medalists. She was the lone senior on the squad and will be missed in 1979.

First row: T. Pike, M. Finerty, D. Logan, G. Rendina, M. Robinson, B. Walter. Second row: S. Sage, D. Johnson, S. Kelley, B. Bishop, J. Hanan, T. Prunty, P. Rendina, S. Hawkins, B. Gowing (coach).

As the Chief's Netsters look back on the 1978 season, they will probably remember a season in which the weatherman had a hand in the outcome. If a record had been kept of the season, it would no doubt show that they played more duals than they had days of practice. Improvement doesn't come with the power shown by Ft. Madison, Hannibal, Quinc and Ottumwa, but rather skills and confiden come with work on fundamentals.

The team waited until May to show so of the promise expected of them. Mi Finerty and Daniel Logan won the 1st and 2 flight singles championships, then a we later the same two teamed up to win the district doubles championship. Mark Robinson defeated his doubles partner for 3rd place singles. The team amassed the most points of any of the ten teams in the district.

The district doubles winners fought their way through the Class A State Tournament to the championship, the first for KHS since 1961.

1. M. Robinson played #3 for the Chief netsters. He was a consolation winner in the district over teammate B. Walter. Mark should move into a key position in '79.
2. The ranking senior returning for next year will be B. Walter. Brett and Mark started the season giving state doubles champions Finerty and Logan strong competition. If they choose to team up they should make a good duo.

HITTING ACES!!

Miss Judy Oldenkamp faced a schedule of tough, experienced teams with a young team. There was only one senior, Ellen Backlin, on the traveling team. In light of this fact, the Chiefettes should field a much stronger team come 1979.

In sectional Keokuk placed fifth. Julie Jutte and Cassie Baugher were eliminated in the second round. Likewise the doubles teams of Ellen Backlin and Mary Ann Crivolio, also Lisa VanDever and Jana Williamson lost in the second round.

1. The only senior on the traveling squad was E. Backlin. She usually played second position for the Chiefettes. Both girls and boys will always remember the potluck at the Backlins. 2. J. Jutte, playing top position, was the one Chiefette netster that took the knocks from the tournament-wise gals in the area.

KEEP PLAYING

Another excellent year for the KHS band has come and gone. The marching band made appearances at many celebrations in the area. At many of these contests they returned home with a number one rating.

The concert band performed at various functions to add to the fine arts aspect of the city.

From the large band, a pep band was selected to add spirit at the football and basketball games.

In the spring, various soloists and small groups spent much time preparing for the state music contests. Both instrumental and vocal groups and soloists brought home the lion's share of first places.

To wind up a good year, the Bullis crew spent a weekend at Six Flags near St. Louis. The Band Boosters must be considered an integral part of this organization as they make possible such excursions. Their fruit sale is one the community looks forward to each late fall.

Although many seniors graduated leaving many gaping holes in the band, the underclassmen will move into those spots to make a well-grounded musical organization.

* Voted Outstanding

The Speech Team did very well this year under the leadership of a new coach, Mr. Calument. The team placed in every contest they participated in and can truly be called champions.

In State Large Group Competition, the Reader's Theater, performing The Bald Soprano received a I rating. The duet acting team of Judy Dunsmore and Chris Goeke also earned a I rating for their scene from Barefoot In The Park.

The Speech Team should go far in the upcoming years, as there is much talent to be developed.

'you can't take it with you'

With a cast of 21 ''You Can't Take It With You'' was presented as the Spring Play. It was a humorous comedy directed by Tony Calumet. The audiences were quitelivelyas the drama department stayed calm and did a great job.

The story hits its peak when the Kirbys come to dinner on the wrong night and every person in the Martin Vanderhof home is arrested.

The odd characters of the people in the story add to the humor. With Judy Dunsmore as a ballerina and Jay Zetterlund an avid commencement goer. Also Kevin Boehm as an old man who once delivers ice and just stays at the Vanderhof home, and Amy Delashmutt being the only sane one in the house.

Credit must be given to everyone who was involved with working on the set. The stage manager Lisa Bartholomew, with her helper Dave McDonald and all the help of cast and crew created a fantastic set.

It was a delight to see and most of the audience loved and enjoyed it.

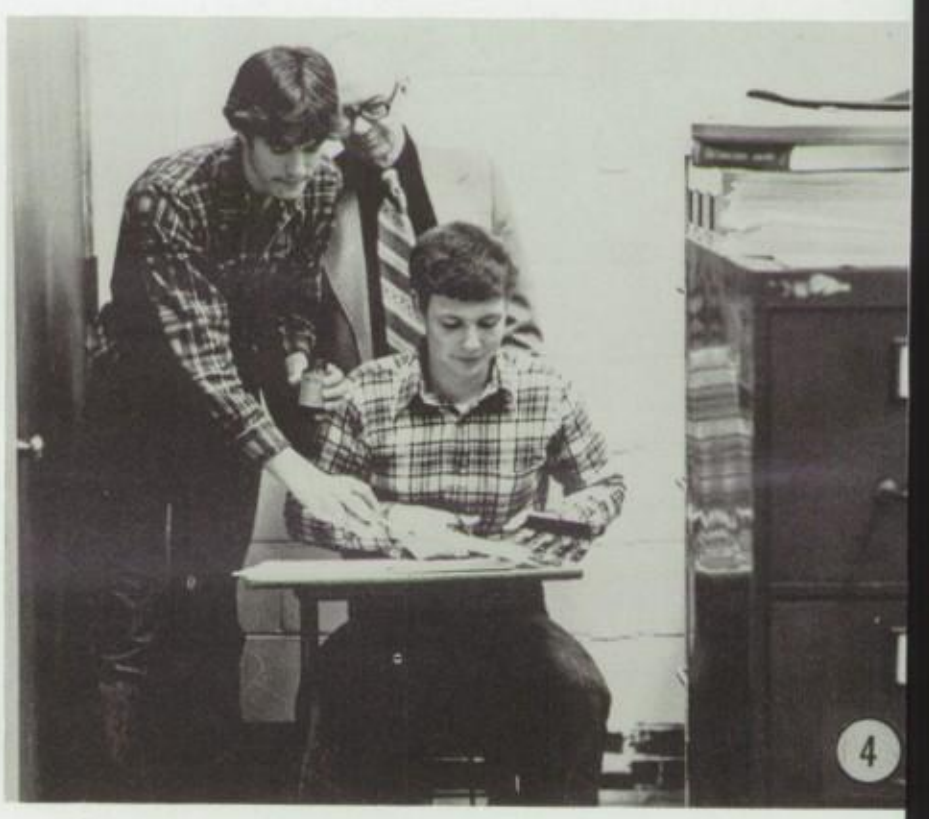
Comment Staff in Actio



The preparation of Volume 75 was a different e perience than that of yearbooks in the past few year It was the largest staff in quite some time, includi several freshmen, who really put their effort into th book. Another difference is the promptness of t photographers and the delivery of finished work schedule.

As in past years, The National Honor Society spo sors the Comment publication. Lynn Gardin, as edito well as Tim Monical, Tim Brown, and Trina Larsen, ed their leadership in the Torch Club to smooth out e rough sailing on the yearbook. Other seniors that ted on the steering committee were: Rick Londrie d Tony Karre, as business managers, they helped sell record number of yearbooks; also Carilyn Booker, ll Fox, and Jim McGrew, who as a group, cooperated tter than past senior members. Bill Gehle and Mike ibyl made up the rest of the upper class staff. cky Davis capably handled the varityper to furnish py and identification.

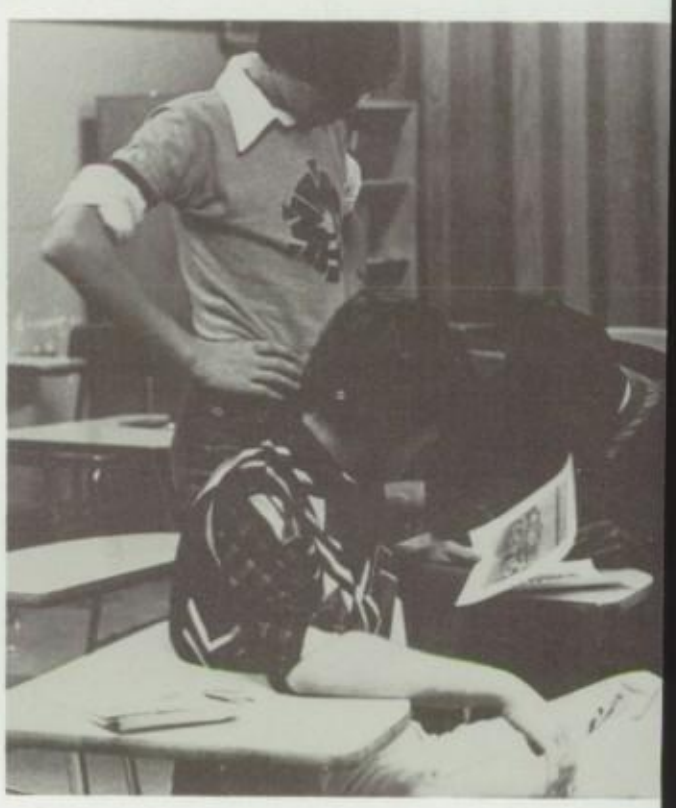
In summary it seems the above combination of stu- nts complimented each other very well, making Pos- ble a smooth and efficient operation.

1. Carilyn Booker and Editor Lynn Gardin go over details for the 1978 yearbook. 2. Tod Pike and Scott Ragar enjoy some pictures destined to find their places on the pages of this book. 3. Vicky Davis is shown back at her place at the Varityper. 4. Bill Gehle and Mike Pribyl question Mr. Gowing, the advisor, about some choices they have in mind. 5. Tim Monical looks on as freshmen Mark Riley and Lesa Riddle identify their classmates. 6. Tony Karre and Rick Londrie, although business managers, lend a hand at identifying pictures. 7. Dave Lovell doing his thing. 8. Jim McGrew, Tim Monical watch Trina Larsen get a layout ready.



1. C. Beaird tries a self portrait. 2. L. Ricker and M. Wright supposedly are doing a pasetup, but on the other hand it seems Lori is testing Mike's feelings. 3. J. Morningstar and S. Micheau try their hands at typing. 4. B. Ragar and G. Lefler watch as B. Fox looks at some material from Walsworth Publishing Co. 5. G. Rendina and T. Brown check for any inconsistencies in a photograph.

If for no other reason 1977-78 was a unique year, in that it was the end of the line for one of the most beneficial programs to ever be undertaken by the city of Keokuk. Yes, referral is made to the foreign exchange student program here. Miss Gerry Pramenik is the last of the students dating back to the early Sixties when Imran came to the Harley West home from Indonesia.

This facet of the club's duties will be sorely missed by the members. It is hoped they will go on finding other ways of promoting international understanding.

Bake sales, two exquisite French dinners, a hay ride at Kimmell's farm and after three years rest, it was back to Canada for the French club. But to take a vacation, one must earn money before. French club spent a little time earning money from small bakes sales and concessions at basketball games. In 1975, the dream of French Candada came true through social activities. Now once again with the help of this year's amity aide, Joelle Nizard and Mrs. Kimmell, the French club was off to French Canada again.

The Student Council started off the 1977-78 school year busy with preparations for Homecoming. After insuring its success, the Council moved swiftly to other projects including sponsoring the United Way and Unicef drives. This year's Council introduced the "Spirit Week" to kick off both the winter and spring sports. These were very successful and hopefully will become a KHS tradition.

But the Student Council didn't confine their activities to school related projects. At Christmas they held a party for under-privileged children, and later invited senior citizens to KHS to view the school. Besides all of this the Council approves all bake sales, dances, fund drives etc. at Senior High.

Ahn Chung headed a hard-working and diligent Council and the deserve our commendations for a job well done.

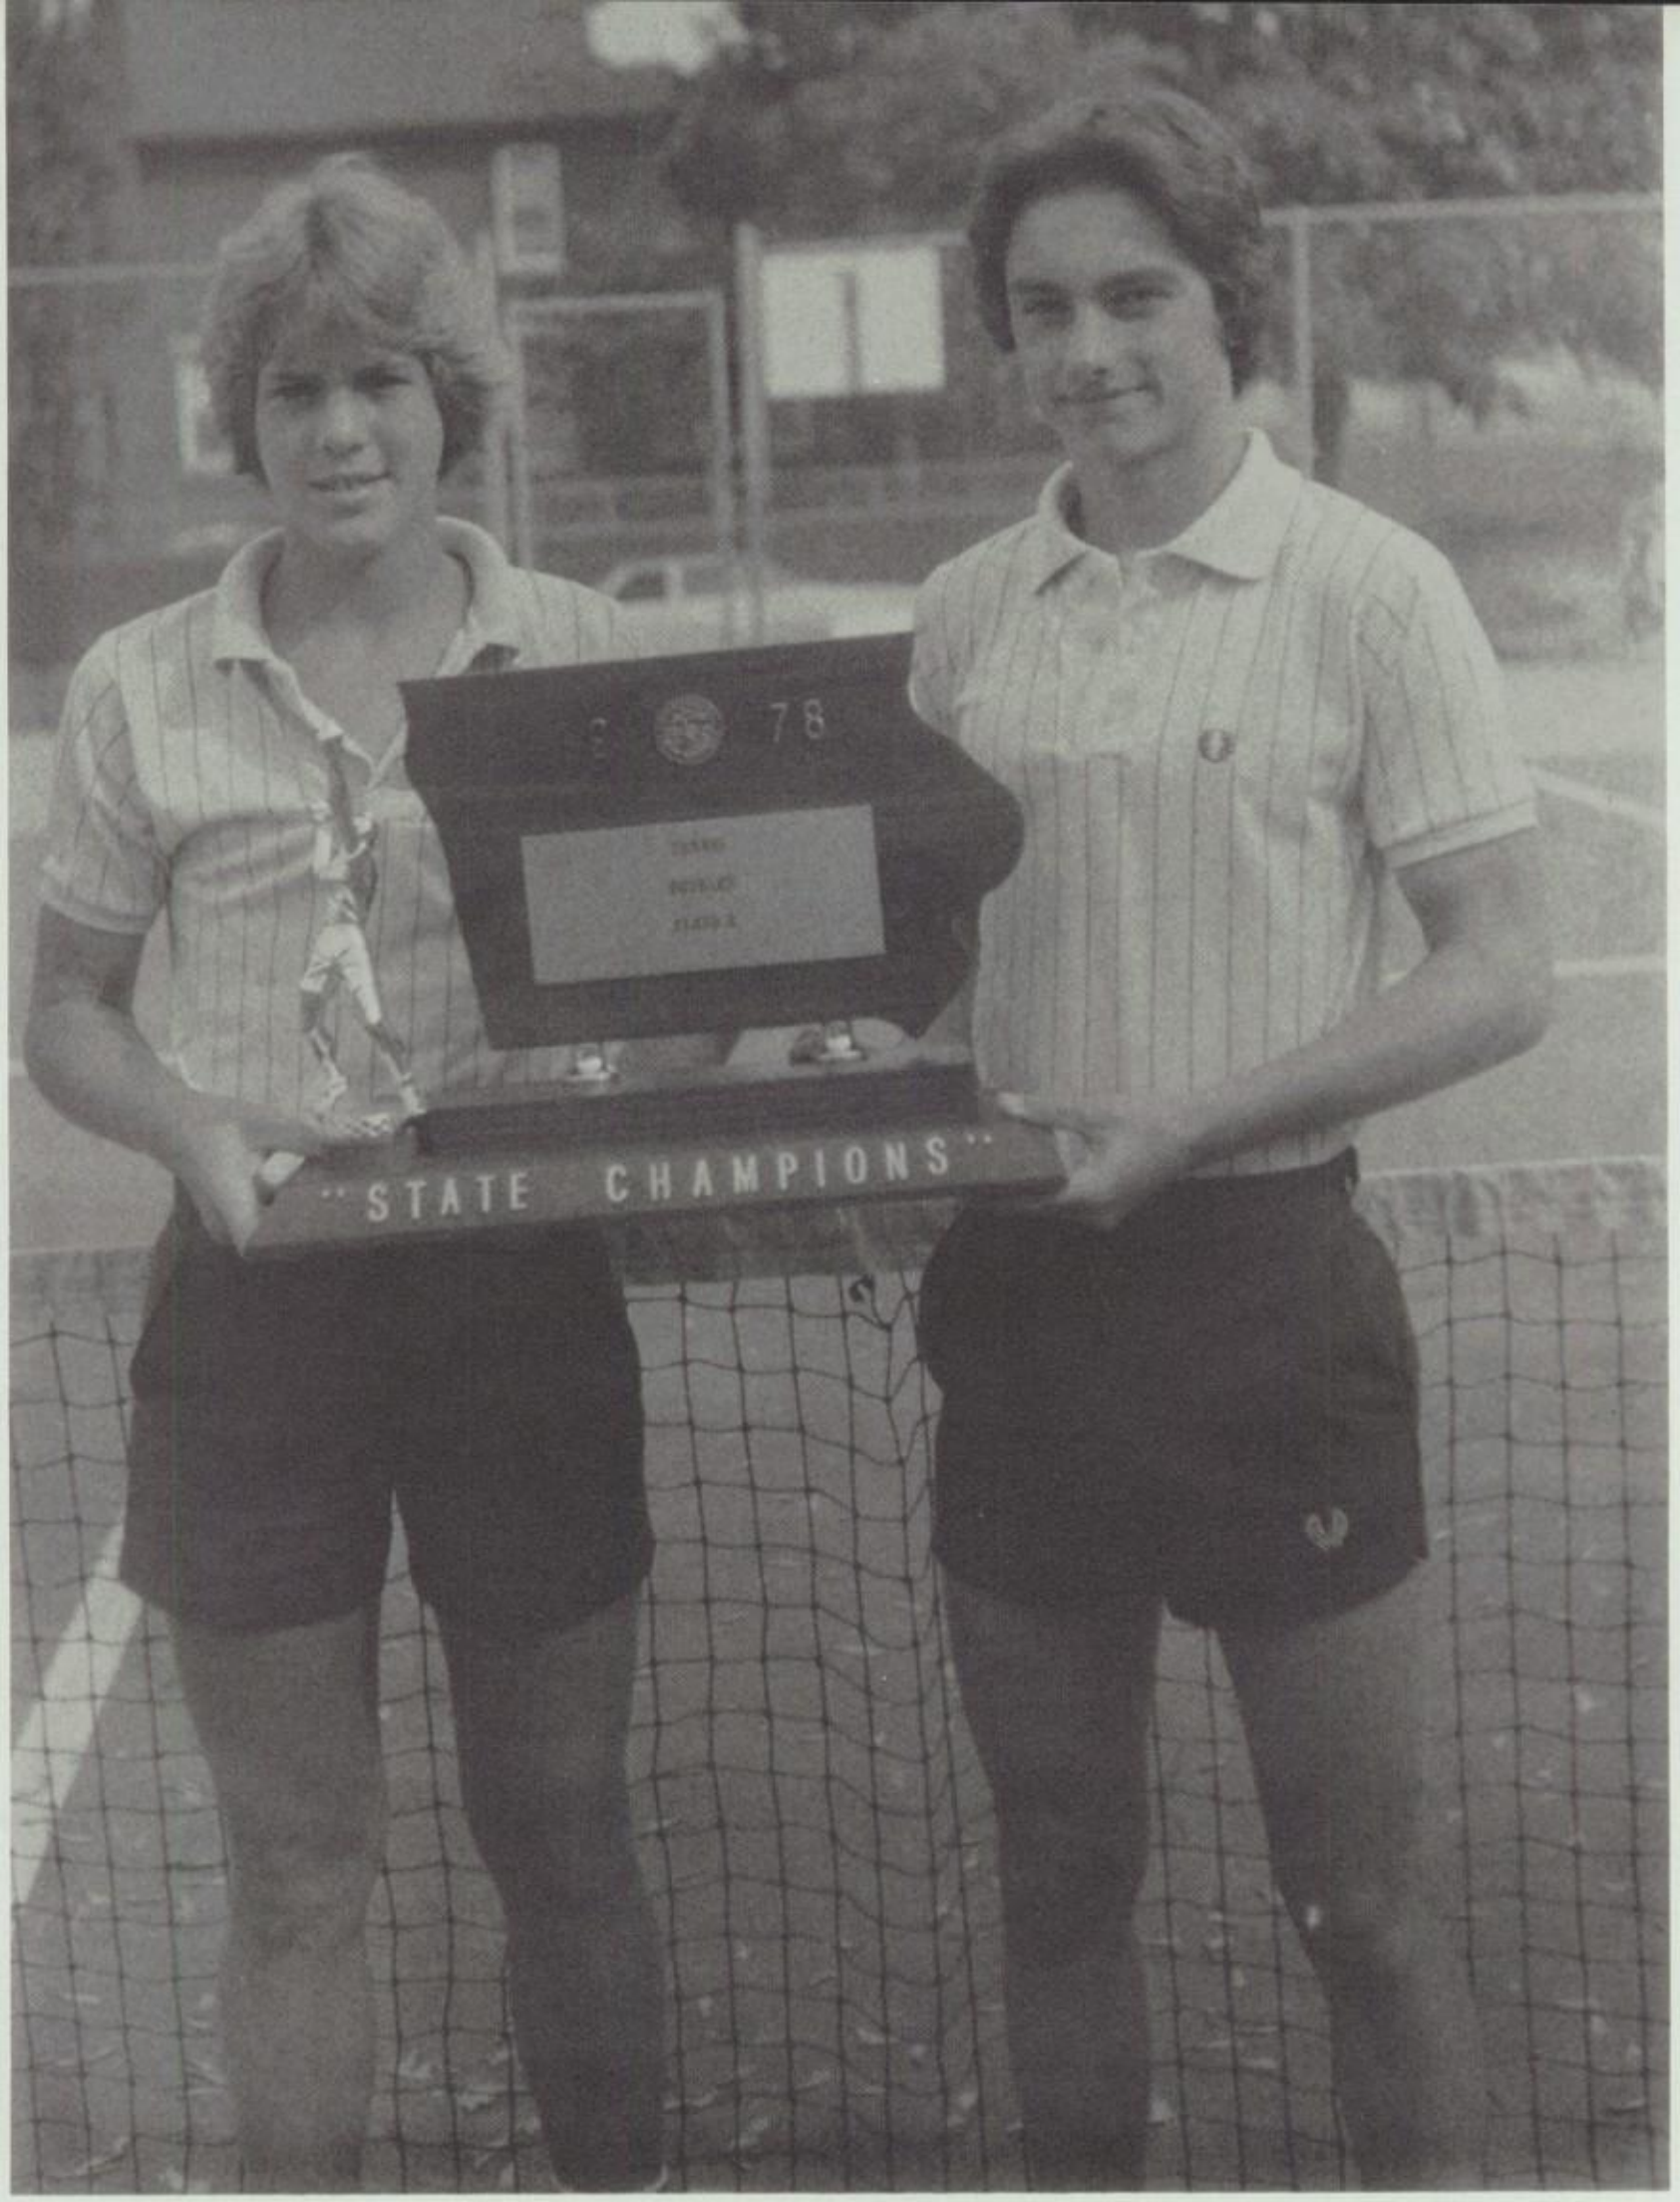
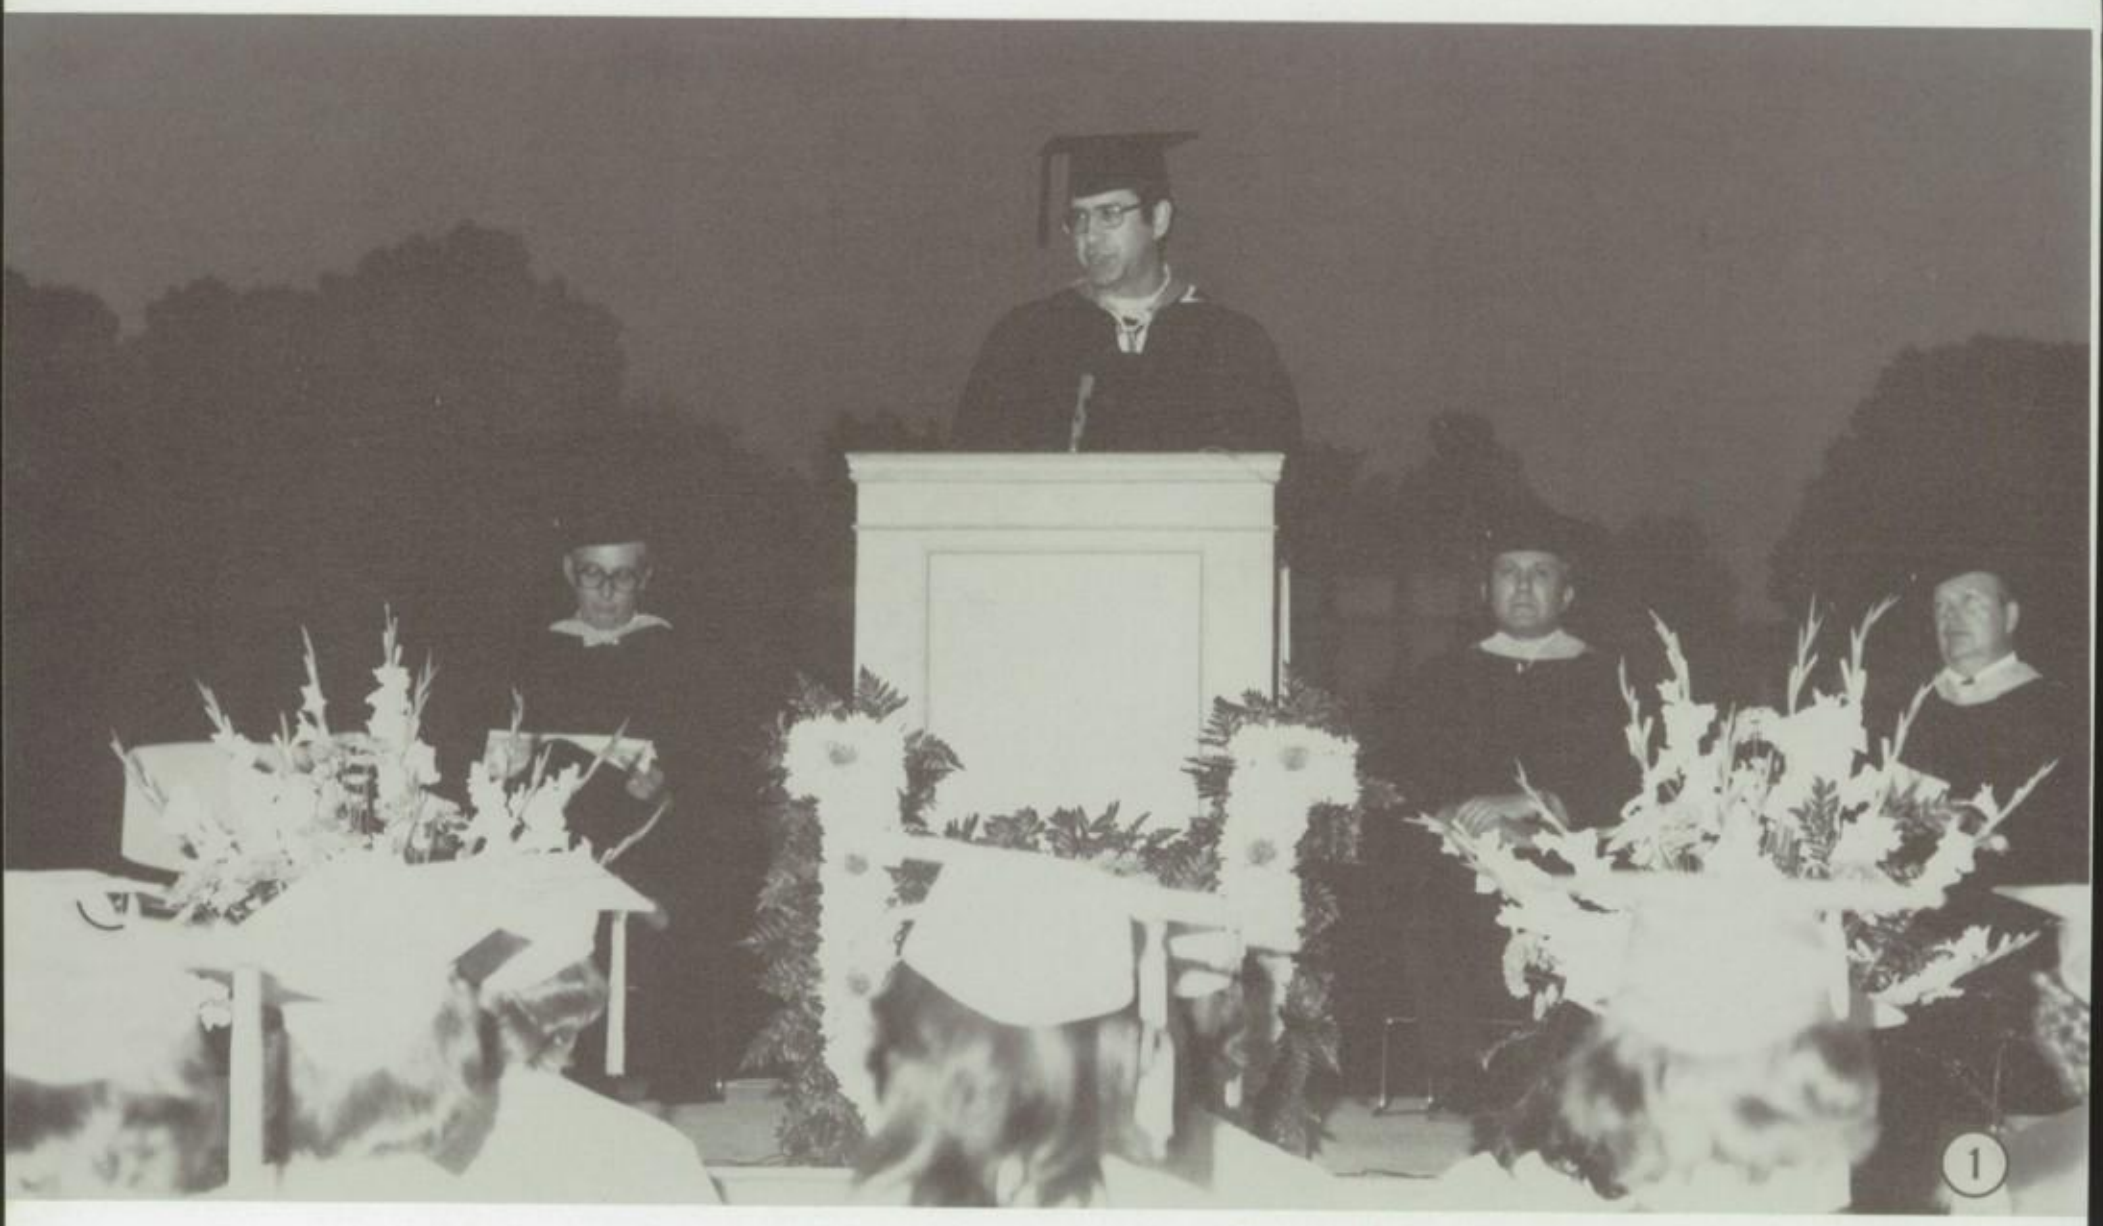
Not present for a picture was David MacDonald who, along with Crista Froeling, was named Best Thespian.



Mike Finerty and Dan Logan finally broke the long dry spell in boys tennis by capturing the Class A Doubles State Championship at Birdland Park in DesMoines on May 27th. They had tough battles from South Tama and St. Edmonds of Ft. Dodge on Friday, but found Red Oak an easy opponent in the semifinals. John Bush and John Maller of Davenport Assumption proved to be another story. The championship was earned only after a ding-dong third set. After a 5-5 tie Finerty won his serve easily and broke the Davenport players serve with surprising ease. Score was 6-3, 3-6, 7-5.

These two young men demonstrated how hard work can be rewarded by reaching the top.



Congratulations Class of 1978

May 25th marked the end of public school education for 170 seniors.

Mr. Fred Karre, President of the Board of Education, awarded the Citizenship K's and announced the winners of the Kilbourne and Maude Marshall Hassall prizes.

Mr. Haim Calderon, who incidentally arrived at KHS and leaves with the Class of '78, announced those receiving certificates of Merit in Scholarship. He presented the class for receiving diplomas from Mr. Fred Karre, assisted by Dr. William Cameron, Superintendent of Schools, and Assistant Principal, Dale Eidem.

After the benediction and the recessional, a very talented group of students were off to seek their fortune.

Through the hum of 'congratulations' and 'good luck' the seniors have thoughts of their own. Some are thinking 'we made it' some 'now college' but for all it is just the beginning of a life ahead.

1. Mr. Fred Karre, President of the Board of Education, speaks to the graduating class during commencement exercises. 2. David Boltz receives his diploma from Mr. Karre. 3. Ahn-Chun Chung, President of the Student Council, addresses the class of '78. 4. Senior Class President, Tod Pike, recalls the past experiences of the graduating seniors. 5. Bob Brilon Lynn Gardin, Trina Larsen, Carla Gammon, and David Glasscock were co-winners of the Kilbourne Prize and the Maude Marshall Hassall Prize. These five students had a perfect 4.0 grade point average during their three years in high school.

KHS was a beehive of activity in mid-October as homecoming neared. With limitations placed on the float-building process, much had to be accomplished in the matter of a few days. Each class performed a miracle in the creation they exhibited to the public for the annual parade.

This effort pulled the student body together in unbelievable fashion. Miss Diane Hand reigned at the game and the traditional homecoming dance.

The football team gave a good account of themselves with a super effort against Prairie of Cedar Rapids. The Hawks held on to win 21-14, but not until they realized they had played a fired-up eleven of the Chiefs. Most of the followers of the Vandenberg team went away feeling they had seen a great team give its best.

1. Introducing "King and Queen of the Prom" Tod Pike and Trina Larsen. 2. G. Smiley tapes up some streamers as class sponsor Mrs. P. Duehr lends a hand and J. Zetterlund looks over some other aspect of decorations. 3. G. Crenshaw and D. Lofton decorate tables and J. Kropf puts up some lettering.

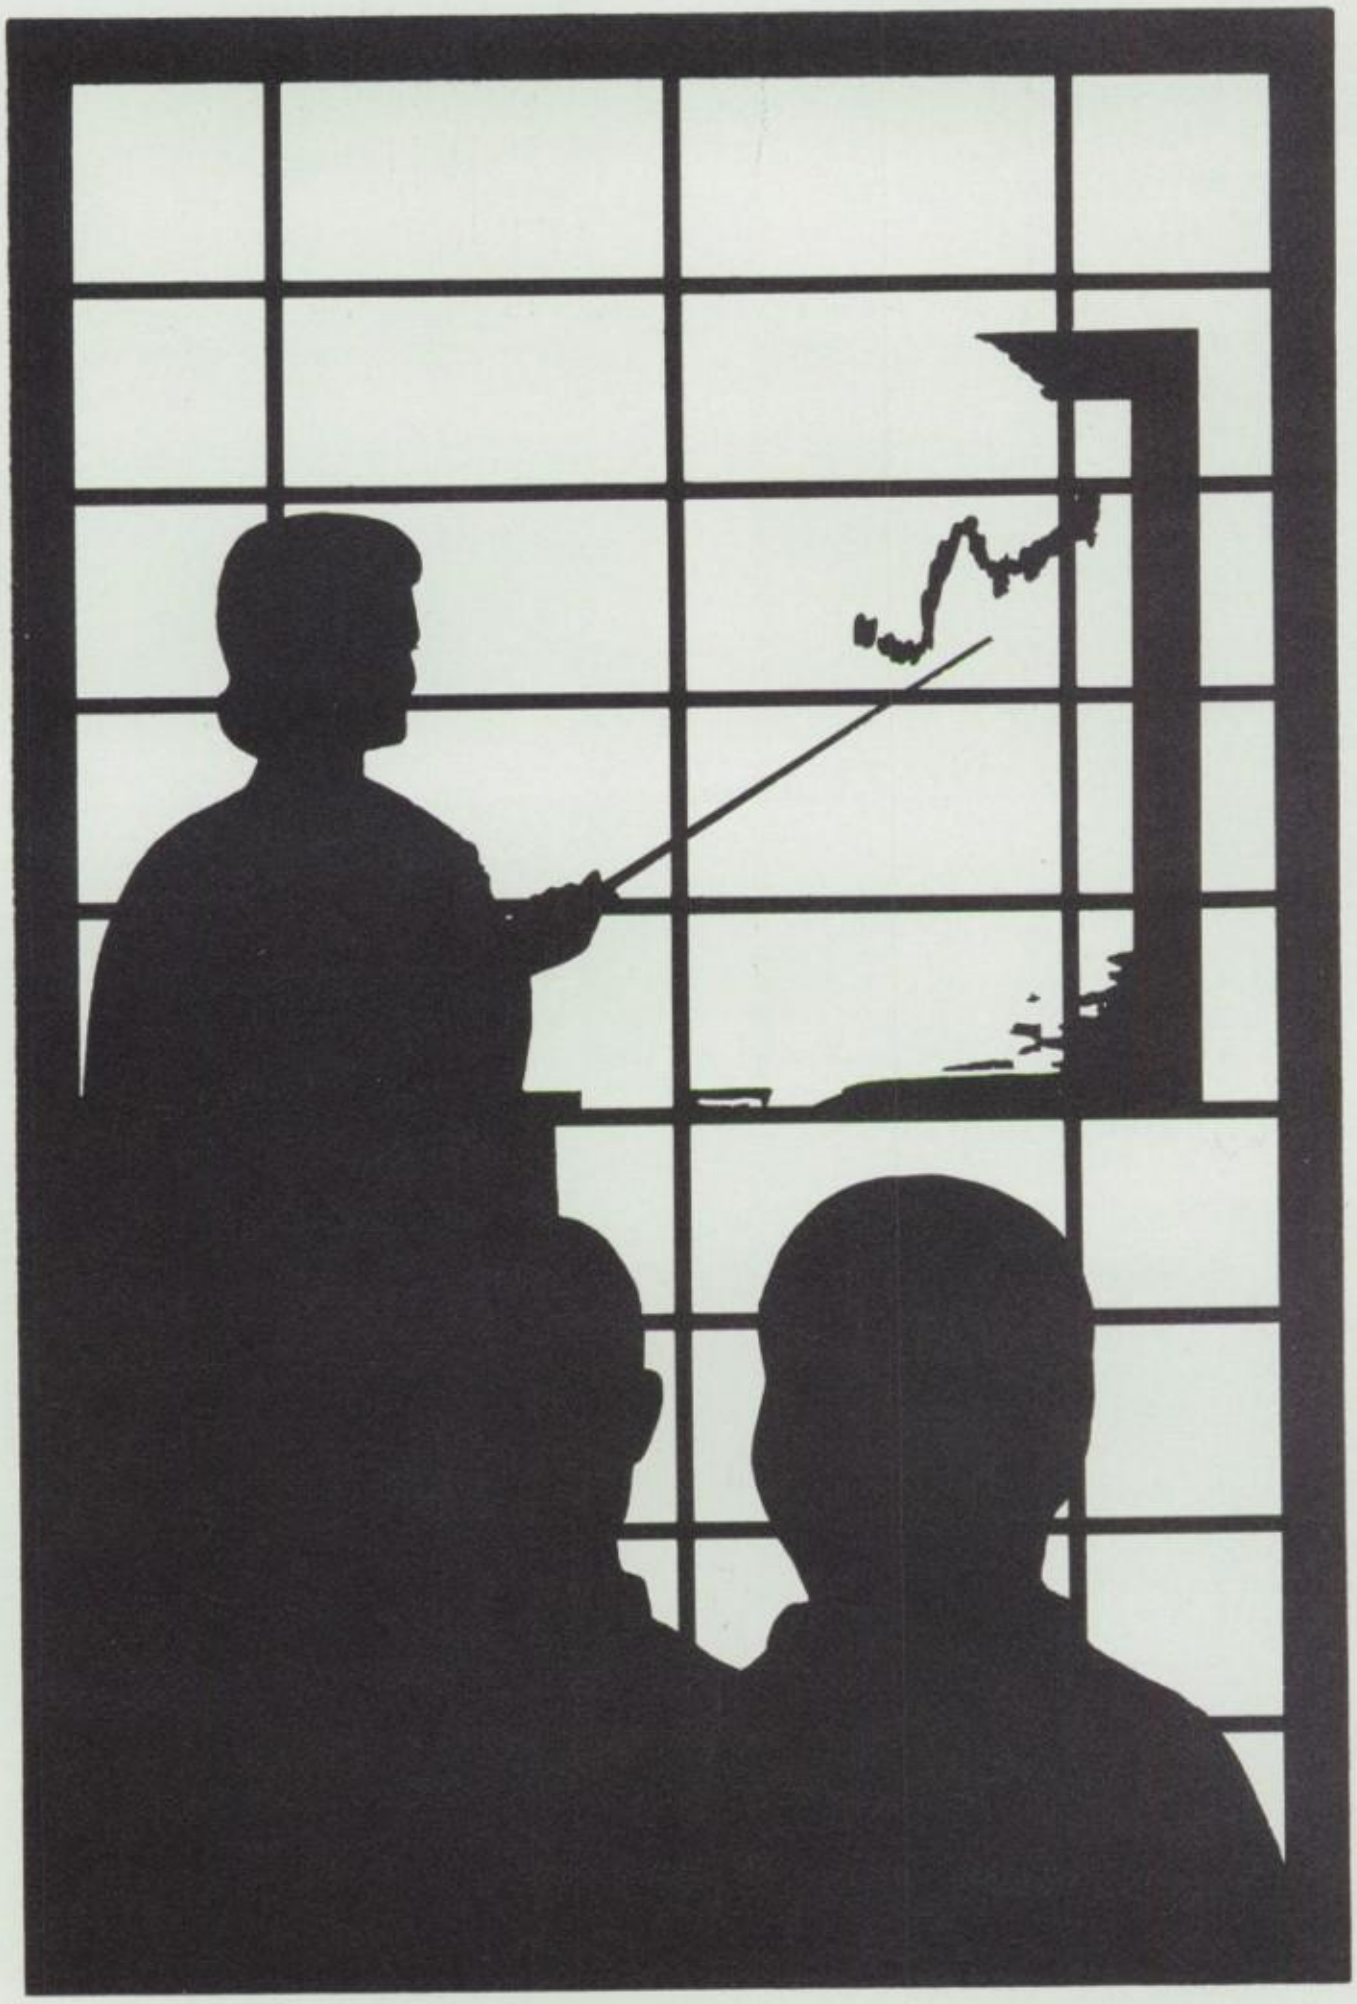
'Send in the Clowns' was the theme for the Junior-Senior Prom held on May 20th at the Keokuk Country Club.

This year, the Junior Class added a new twist to the prom festivities when they decided to crown a king and queen, chosen by the senior students. Crowned were Tod Pike and Trina Larsen.

'Side Street' provided the dancing and listening music for the prom-goers. Other prom activities included the movie, 'New York, New York' and a disco dance at 'In the Mood.'

The Junior Class should be commended for making the prom a successful and enjoyable evening.

1. K. McGee shown receiving her balloon 2. Trina and Tod lead off the festivities wit their dance. 3. T. Larsen, T. Weber, K Johnson, T. Pike, J. McGrew, and R. Lorenz mad up the king's court. 4. C. Sheets and M. Brow enter the Country Club.



Faculty & Administration

To the faculty:

The staff hoped to change the layout for this section of the yearbook, but due to many unfortunate delays, it was discovered too late that several teachers did not have negatives suitable for printing. Some pictures were not taken in January and some people were not available for retakes.

Therefore, it was necessary to use some pictures from last year. For that and any omission we are sincerely sorry.

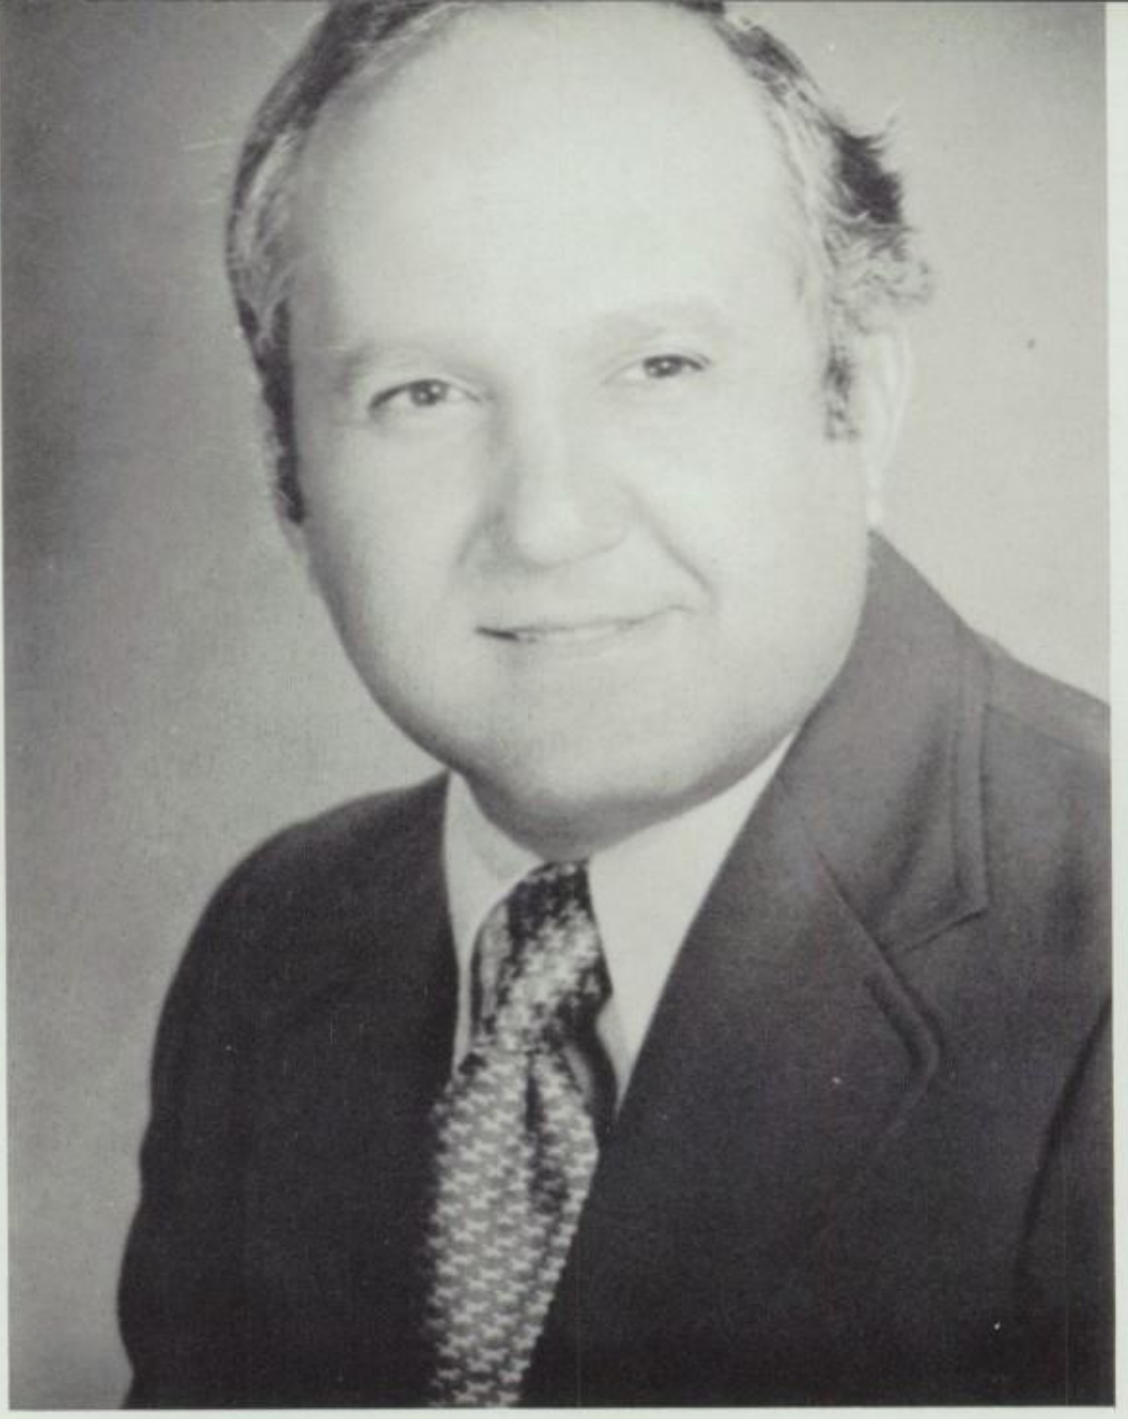
Although two veterans, Mr. James Shuman and Bill Vorhies, chose not to serve longer on the board of education, the new members, Mrs. Joanne Brockman and Mr. Dick Bishop seemed to fit right into the business of operating the Keokuk Community School District.

Certainly the problems have not all been solved, but headway seems to be taking place. As the year draws to an end the major project is an addition planned for Hawthorne Elementary School.

Thank 'yous' are in order from the community and the KHS student body for hours so freely given to improve the education of Keokuk.

If one listens to the under current in a school system, he gets the feeling of 'smooth sailing' or 'rough waters'. In the case of Dr. William Cameron, the year seemed to to much smoother than those of the past couple of years. Dr. Cameron has come up through the Keokuk system after coming here from administrative positions in north central Iowa.

The year was not without controversy over such a matter as the closing of elementary schools, but this same problem prevails all across the country as falling enrollments and inflation become overwhelming in their problems.



The new assistant principal at KHS was not really new as he came out of the science classes to face new challenges. Mr. Dale Eidem had many years of success among the test tubes and Bunsen Burners and was missed by students as a teacher in that department.

Handling discipline is a thankless task, but Mr. Eidem has "run a good ship" (as they say) as far as teacher and student relations were concerned.

Best wishes for continued success to a hard working assistant principal.

This year the ship of state, in this case Keokuk High School, was piloted by Mr. Haim Calderon. It is Mr. Calderon's last year at KHS as he has accepted the position of Superintendent of Schools in southwest Iowa.

"Hy", as he was known around these parts, came to this school district from Wyoming as business manager for the system, later he served as acting superintendent. From this position he moved to his present position. He initiated many ideas at Keokuk High, of which many added to the efficient output of this high school.

Mr. James Schneider completed the high school administrative staff. Among his many duties and the one most closely associated with KHS was the position of Athletic Director. Scheduling all events of a school the size of Keokuk High is no easy task with the multitudes of teams now participating. He should be congratulated for his fine efforts.

The auxilliary staff at KHS is made up of many fine accomodating people. Onl they know the demands that are made of them over the course of a year. This come about as a result of not knowing who else can be of help in working out the variou problems. Some have celebrated twenty-five years in the system but to all th staff says 'thank you'.
